

Abstract

Freewill Solutions Co. Ltd. is a software developer and professional services provider. The software development's team save problems and solutions in the form of documents with a lot. This project develops web application to record the problems and the solutions during application development. Using this web application found that the staff within the team can see the list of problems, details of the problem, cause of the problem and proposed solution of the problem. The staffs within the team can see the detail and share the answer of the problems at the same time. It make the problems with clearly and correctly solutions.

Keyword: Issue Logging / Program / Web Application