

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This research paper was prepared for the partial fulfillment of Masters in Business Administration program. It is a pleasure to thank to all those people who made this study possible. This study would not have been possible without the guidance of my supervisor/advisor and also help from my dear classmates.

Firstly, I would like to give special thank to supervisor who is encouragement and be my Independent Study advisor, Professor Dr. Vijit Supinit. I really appreciated his recommendation and suggestion during Independent Study process. His act in response was really useful for me to conduct research; His faster approval had been provided and allowed me to collect data. Without this support I would not be able to complete efficiently on time.

Second, this is to acknowledge my sincere, humble and deepest sense of gratitude towards my friends Mr. Ercan Hayvali zu Hoberge and Mr. Niklas Meyer. Their guidance, expert suggestions and SPSS program support during course of analysis has helped me to complete this project successfully.

Third, I thank you and appreciate to international and regional students in Siam University who supported me very well for data collection, for spending time for my Independent Study survey and comment. It was such a kind of excellent information which really had been valuable for this research.

Finally, I would like to show my gratitude to my parents U Tun Tha Aung, Daw Khine Thein May and my grandmother Ms. Daw Wai Wai, without their support it would not be possible to complete my MBA at University of SIAM.

Mr. Ashin Ganda Sara
